PIRIOU registers order for a 22.5 metre trawler
from shipyard CABARET Jérôme
-owner of NOMINOE

PIRIOU has just registered a new order for artisanal fishing: a 22.5 metre trawler dedicated to bottom and midwater trawling in the Channel and Irish sea. This new unit is due for delivery at the end of 2019 to CABARET Jérôme shipowner and will have homeport in Saint Briec-North Brittany-France.

This project is the result of a collaboration between shipowner CABARET Jérôme, PIRIOU shipyard, naval architect PANTOCARENE and Atlantic Marine Services shipbroker.

Vincent FAUJOUR, PIRIOU CEO declares: 'This new order reinforces our position on the market of artisanal fishing trawlers, an industry that is the DNA of our group. This also confirms we are still competitive on that type of vessel, and a player of the fleet necessary renewal. Jérôme Cabaret is the kind of businessman we at PIRIOU like and we are proud to take part in the development of his company'.

Jérôme CABARET adds: 'Atlantic Marine Services shipbroker Mr Pierre-Yves MILLET wrote and concluded the building contract. Meeting Mr CELTON and Mr FAUJOUR was decisive to rely on PIRIOU shipyard experience and know-how. The new vessel will replace NOMINOE. She was designed to optimize comfort and security of my crew and takes part in a sustainable and responsible project. The Crédit Maritime bank and Mer Invest secured funding'.
